OUR HANDICAPS

Handicaps are true revealers of character. There is no surer way to judge a man than by the way he accepts a handicap.

Take an empty sleeve. This is looked upon as a severe handicap, yet it was an empty sleeve that opened the door of opportunity to Robert H. Allison, the young chap who plays baseball with one arm better than most men with two. In three years after the accident which deprived him of his arm he had not only worked his way through two years of college, but by his own efforts had saved $2200 toward educating himself for law.

So resolutely has he overcome his handicap that he has almost ceased to look upon it as such and declares that it has forced him to invent so many ways to get around it that it has made him more efficient than he otherwise would have been.

"The truth is," he says, "I didn't wake up to what I really could accomplish until I was forced to by the loss of my arm."

To the strong man a handicap is a challenge. He marshals all his forces to overcome it and thus develops a strength of character that makes him a winner.

The way we accept our handicaps will determine largely the place we are to occupy in life.

NEW YORK, Mar. 17 — If you're bald and 40, life's best necks.

For although the hairs on your head may be numbered, 2000 members of the Bald Head Club of America rise to assert that only the baldhead is appreciative of the finer things; hence handsome, happy and contented.

The Bald Heads are planning their fourth annual meeting at Torrington, Conn., May 9.

Applications for membership from all states, Europe and some of the South Sea Islands are to be passed.

He who would join the club must submit his "polished spot" for examination. If it measures three inches or more in diameter, he is eligible.

Ex-President Taft is an honorary member. He got in "by a hair" when the chief Bald Head examiner declared him the possessor of just three inches and no more.

Another member is Vice President Coolidge.

And the Bald Heads look forward to the day when they can enroll President Harding.

When the Bald Heads meet they sing songs like "Where, O Where Has My Little Hair Gone?" and "There's No Place on Earth Like That Little White Spot Under a Hat."

Objects set forth in the articles of incorporation are:

To bind all bald heads together in fraternity so that they may appreciate their blessing.

To prove that baldness is the sign of much intelligence.

To subscribe funds for charitable purposes.

If you want a job—try a classified.

ENGLAND AND FRANCE
FACING A STRUGGLE FOR AIR SUPREMACY

(International News Service.)

LONDON, Mar. 17—Allies in war and friends in peace, England and France are shortly to be plunged into a battle for the air supremacy of Europe.

It will be a battle of peace and commerce, but the aim behind it will be development of a peace-time commercial aviation service that shall be capable of instantaneous turning to the uses of war if need arises.

Britain has offered a subsidy comparatively small for the encouragement of civil aviation. France now under consideration and, it is understood, completed ready for final approval, a scheme for greatly increased subsidies which, it is feared, will enable the French lines to undercut English lines.

Britain is looking to the airmen to take over some of the responsibilities heretofore borne by its world dominating navy. She is just now keenly discussing ways and means of strengthening the power of her fleet through its "air arm" and of providing in the air the safeguards for her island isolation, formerly made safe by her warships, but which, in the late war, was proved to be vulnerable from the skies.

General Sykes is in the forefront of those experts who are urging what is equivalent to "war college" consideration of means of combining the strategy of land and sea and air.

Race for Air Supremacy

G. Holt Thomas, one of Britain's foremost builders, foresees an international race between England and France for air supremacy over the continent.

"We must use the air busily in peace," he declares, "so that we may have command of it instantly in the event of future war, and we can reap all the immediate benefits from so doing while storing up for ourselves a vast potential source of power."

"Always we are confronted with the smallness of these islands of ours and the badness of our weather. This means that we are forced to concentrate our energies at any rate for the time, on those air lines which lead us out of the country, and then onward to the great cities of northern and central Europe."

"It should be our bounden duty to make ourselves paramount on these airways to the continent."

"We are not going to have this field to ourselves. There should be no illusions on that score. The French are intending to make a supreme effort aeronomically this next spring and summer. From this point of view I look upon the immediate future with some apprehension. If British civil aviation is to put on its feet then the time is here and now."

NATIONAL SOUTHERN AIR TOURNAMENT AT BELLAIRE MAR. 26-28

(The Associated Press.)

CLEARWATER, March 17.—Under the patronage of the Army and Navy one of the most spectacular aviation meets ever held in the country will take place at Clearwater Beach March 26 to 28 inclusive. The event, to be known as the National Southern Air Tournament, will be under the direct supervision of army officers and the fleet of aircraft expected to participate will comprise virtually every type of land and sea planes.

Entries received include many service and civilian fliers, among them Majors A. H. Gilkeson and Halek; Capt. C. W. Ford, Lieuts. J. G. Williams, Victor D. H. Strahm; Fred E. Woodward, J. D. Corkill, O. A. Gottschalk, A. Dunlap, C. W. Woolsey, C. C. Chantrey, H. McClelland, A. Patrick, R. U. Cronan, F. B. Johnson, K. Mallory, C. Fishback, and Misses G. W. Haldeman, Arthur Henderson and A. Flavelle.

Naval seaplanes are expected to arrive here this week from Pensacola and will include the latest types of the twin motorized machines. The Aero Marine Engineering corporation also is expected to send two naval cruisers and the huge seaplane Ponce de Leon, now carrying passengers between East Coast points and Cuba is scheduled to come here from Havana.

The officials will include Major H. C. Claggett, chief air service officer Fourth Corps Area, who will fly from his headquarters in Atlanta. Major Ralph Royce, commandant at Carlstrom Field, Arcadia, will be in charge of the flying field. Other officials announced are Lieut. Chauncey, assistant starter; Chief Surgeon Major H. H. Harwood, Army Medical Corps, and Lieuts. Clark and McClelland, checkers at turns. Lieuts. Mallory and Johnson and A. Flavelle.

Sunday, March 27, has been set aside as "stunt" day and those in charge of the program expect the greatest exhibition of trick flying by army aviators ever seen in the South. The tentative program provides for parachute drops, formation flying, racing, of which a contest over a 100 mile course will be the feature, and every evolution of which an airplane is capable.

Munday will be Marine Boat day with the entire program devoted to the naval aviators. Features will be seaplane racing, bombing and firing at fixed marks while in full flight.

Mayors of Florida cities and heads of Chambers of Commerce are expected to attend the tournament and it is planned to have them meet to discuss steps to advance aviation in the state and in the South.

Bound by the Bonnets.

She was a refined old lady and her friend sat near her in the church on Sunday morning. She leaned over to speak to her friend. The ornaments on their bonnets became fastened together and they couldn't get them apart until a nearby woman came to the rescue. By this time the congregation was all smiling, and it is needless to say how embarrassed the old ladies were.

Hadn't slept for 3 days. Relieved in a hurry by Digest Well Tablets

"Recently while traveling for my firm, I met a friend, also a salesman, leaning against a telegraph pole in Auburn, Ind., and looking very ill. He told me that he had indigestion and had been unable to sleep for three days. I reached into my grip and gave him two Digest Well Tablets, which he took. He felt better, and we went on to Garrett where I made him take 2 more tablets. A little later I asked him how he felt. He replied, "I am feeling fine as a fiddle and am having the first real relief I have had for 3 days." This was about an hour and ten minutes after taking the first tablets. Digest Well Tablets have been of great benefit to me, and I would not leave on a trip without them."—M. L. Allen, Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Irving Bacheller Will Give Famous Reading, "Keeping Up With Lizzie," Tuesday

Irving Bacheller, the famous editor, author and lecturer who is spending his winter at Winter Park, will be the last attraction on the regular Assembly program. He will appear on next Tuesday afternoon, March 22. The Poughkeepsie (N. Y.) Eagle refers to his lecture in that city as follows:

"The double treat of not only hearing bits of that well known satirical book, 'Keeping Up with Lizzie,' but even the presentation of it by the author himself was that of the Vassar students Friday evening. Mr. Bacheller was introduced by Prof. Burgess Johnson, who mentioned briefly what the author has done to preserve the local characteristics of New England, which are quickly dying out, and his gentle amusing way of preaching a sermon or two. A personality contrary to the rising type of Americans, Mr. Bacheller assumed with surprising reality. It was that of a sensible, weather-worn lawyer, the Hon. Socrates Potter. Mr. Bacheller is as successful a lecturer as a writer, suitable to be impersonated and understand characters. He is unique, eloquent, witty and stimulating."

Million Dollar Band Coming

Director James Heaton predicts that the Million Dollar band, which is to appear for three nights at the Auditorium Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings, March 24, 25 and 26, will be one of the big attractions of the year. Besides the big band there will also be a big picture each evening.

On Thursday evening there will be seen the "Palace of Darkened Windows."

On Saturday evening, "The Road of Ambition."

Sam Small Tonight

Arrangements have been completed for the patriotic meeting to be addressed by Sam Small, the famous Georgia orator, who speaks on "The Salvation of Uncle Sam" tonight in the Auditorium, Daytona Beach, at 8 p.m.

Sam Small is known the country over for his clever and unique humor and for the power of his utterance. He and Sam Jones traveled together before the death of the latter, and to their efforts is largely credited the fact that the South went dry before the prohibition waves made their impression on the East.

All the ministers and Protestant churches are co-operating in this meeting, which is held under the national auspices of the National Reformation Association, a powerful organization working to bring all our laws into conformity to Christian standards.

Owing to the fact that no admission fee is charged, but all are welcome, to the prominence of the speaker and to the timeliness of the theme, it is expected by those in charge that a large audience will greet the speaker.

"Vanity" to Play Friday

Clifton Mallory, dramatist and actor, known scarcely less for his own ability in dramatic interpretation than for his five successful plays, is to appear Friday evening at the Auditorium, heading his own company of players in presenting a modern morality play.

Here is a keen satire upon the American craze for keeping up appearances. Filled with clean humor and presenting many tense dramatic moments, this modern morality play, which tells of a New York manufacturer, his wife, his clerk and a public sinner, preaches a powerful sermon, but not at the expense of an interest of keen dramatic delights.

"Vanity," like "Everywoman," that other famous modern morality play, has been presented successfully from New York City to State College, New Mexico, and from Portland, Ore., to De Funiak Springs, Fla., and in every case Mr. Mallory and his distinguished company of artists have been received with kindred words of appreciation by critics—not only of the press, but of the public.

The supporting cast is indeed a splendid one and Mr. Mallory has spared no expense in the proper staging of the play.

(International News Service)

"Changes for the better are coming rapidly in the North," says Thomas Goodfellow of Detroit, who has just arrived to spend a few weeks at the Beach before buckling down to big business for the summer in the Michigan metropolis. Because no line of trade was hit harder by the reconstruction than the automobile business, and as our city is the center of this industry, we have felt the depression more than any other in the country, now the reaction is at hand and better times are at hand," said Mr. Goodfellow to a News representative.

"Every kind of industry is coming back and it will not be long until prosperity will be back and to stay. As for myself, I have stood my loss, which was inevitable, and this is true with every man who was in business throughout the war period. We made a fine profit on the rising markets and must expect to lose something when the markets are on the decline."

In speaking of Henry Ford and his big plants, Mr. Goodfellow said: "I look upon Mr. Ford as the biggest asset to our city has. No one man has had such a big part in putting Detroit on the industrial map of the world as he has. He gives more men employment, he has paid his men the highest wages and he has proved to be the best friend of the consumers throughout the world by giving them the best market price for his product. Few people have any idea how close he is to his employees. He employs in Detroit alone about sixty thousand men, and it is surprising how many of those he knows by their first name. He makes frequent trips through his shops, and he always stops and chats with the mechanics and greets them familiarly and discusses with them the details of the production. He slaps them on their backs, takes hold of their arms as he passes and often takes time to pass a joke. I know of no big capitalist of industry who has so thoroughly and unrewardingly the confidence of his wage earners. He takes a lively interest in the getting ahead of his men who are frugal and economical and who are buying homes and using their earnings wisely."

Mr. Goodfellow is the big transfer man in Detroit, and possibly knows as many men as any man in Michigan. He is an old friend of the Beach and always finds some way of getting here every winter.

Those interested say it is very necessary that the Daytona Beach fire department be provided with two rubber coats and two pairs of rubber caps, to be kept on the new truck all of the time. Chief W. E. French will see that they are taken care of and ready for use every time the department is called out. Heretofore the necessary paraphernalia has not been received by the fire department as far as no one has ever accepted the responsibility of it.

PORT ORANGE

PORT ORANGE, March 16.—Mr. and Mrs. John Willis of Galesburg, Ill., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Burgess for a few days. The ladies have been lifelong friends and appreciate the Florida climate and attractions together.

Mrs. Roy Pritchard, of Brooklyn, N. Y., is enjoying the hospitality of her friends, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Townsley, which enhances the attractiveness of our delightful climate.

Mr. and Mrs. Grant Bliss, of Three Rivers, Mich., have rooms at J. B. Case's. They arrived in Florida early in January and have been stopping at Walton, but prefer the climate and scenery of this section, the weather having been very warm at Walton.

A ten-pound boy came to Mr. and Mrs. Otto Johnson last Saturday and all are doing nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hart and Mr. and Mrs. George Hunt started on Monday to motor to Flemington, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. George Matthews and George, Jr., left on Tuesday for their home near Flemington, N. J. They were greatly pleased with our climate and scenery and hope to come again.

The death of Mrs. Ellen R. Platt of Plainfield, Ill., occurred in the Appenzell house yesterday afternoon, where she had rooms. The deceased has spent a number of winters here and made her home with the late May Perkins until the latter's death. The funeral arrangements are unknown, but the body will probably be taken to her home for interment.

Mrs. Holmes, who has been ill at Miss Shevlin's, is recovering very nicely and is expected to soon be out again.

W. B. Eubanks has purchased a lot of Townsley & Kerr on Ridgewood avenue and plans to erect a bungalow thereon in the near future.

The L. and L. Association (Women's club) will hold their regular meeting Wednesday afternoon, March 23rd, at 2:30 p. m. at Grace Guild Hall. Dr. D. H. Rutter, of Daytona Beach, will give an address on "The Woman Citizen." Admission free. All are urged to be present, especially all citizens, as the address will deal with the duties of the woman citizen.

PARIS, Mar. 15.—The French foreign office formally denies a report circulated in the United States that negotiations have been opened with the French embassy at Washington, in an effort to induce President Harding to accept a modified League of Nations. The Foreign Office stated that the League of Nations and similar matters, are within the scope of the duties of the French ambassador who may be expected to concern himself with them at the proper time.

Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Marsh of Reading, Mich., are guests of the Dixie Hotel as are also Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Nason of Sioux Falls, S. D.

Ambitious Plans Being Made for Next Season's Assembly and Forum Programs at Beach

Valuations of Beach Property Will Be Raised

County Assessor R. L. Smith has now reached Daytona Beach with his official work and taking hold of work as if he were an old hand on the job.

When asked about the outstanding features of the work this year Mr. Smith said:

"From present indications there will be a large increase in the valuations of assessable property. At the beginning I estimated the increase in the county at about five million dollars, but now I have gotten far enough in the business to make me believe that it will run considerably more than this."

"Do you think this will also greatly increase the amount of tax to be raised in the future?" he was asked.

"Some, more, yes, but not as much as might be anticipated. In all probability the tax millage is liable to be lowered, to some extent, in proportion to the rise in valuation, but, of course, the real value of taxable property is growing larger every year and the amount of taxation is bound to increase substantially every year. I find the increase will, in the main, be in Daytona, Daytona Beach, Seabreeze and DeLand, while even in New Smyrna it will not be small amount.

"But Mr. Holmes is nothing, if not a true blue optimist, and he is now looking forward to the new year with hope and promise. In speaking of the coming season plans, he says:

"Next year, instead of the twenty-four numbers of the Assembly, which we had on that course this year, we will have but 20 numbers, two each week beginning about the same time as this year, and there will be but two numbers per week. There will be one entertainment number and one first class moving picture each week. The prices next year will be lower and there will be different price season tickets, depending on the location in the Auditorium, as to what the prices will be. We plan that in this way we will be able to sell many more tickets than now people will find entertainment and that our receipts will total fully as much."

"We have," continued Mr. Holmes, "a contract practically entered into for the coming to us of the greatest musical organization of its kind in the country, and beyond all comparison the most stupendous attraction that has ever visited the South. We have other many big headliners in view, including some nationally known musicians and other artists of fame. In fact, we propose to give in twenty numbers just as much value, when merit is concerned, as we have been able to give, because of war prices, in twenty-four numbers this year."

"As for the Forum," said Mr. Holmes, "we are certain to keep that up to the high standard at which it has been maintained since it was established. We will have here next year a distinguished line of speakers from the leading thinkers, actors and speakers of the country. It will be our aim to give the patrons of the Forum the most progressive thoughts known in the world of science, education, politics, literature and religion."

Mr. Holmes says it is the hope of the Auditorium management that Prof. James Houston can be induced to come back for next season. He has proved a most valuable asset to the organization and we certainly want him back. He is a splendid orator, an excellent singer, and makes friends of all of the patrons. We are anxious that he will buy a residence here and make this his permanent winter home.

It will be our ambition to make every program of both the Assembly and the Forum stronger and more popular than the preceding one.

PROGRAM OF AIR STUNTS AT BEACH ON SATURDAY P.M.

One of the greatest days of hair raising feats attempted in the south will be presented to citizens, tourists and others of the Triple Cities on Daytona Beach Saturday afternoon at 1:30, when Harry Copland, pilot, and Percy Spencer, owner of the large Lenox airplane, Stuart J. Davies, pilot of the Utica, and Pete Craig will stage several cold blooded flirtations with fate in mid-air, just for the amusement of those who wish to turn out for the fun.

The three aviators, Copland, Spencer and Davies decided that the tourists and others in this section having become used to witnessing amateur races on the beach each Saturday would feel lonely without something exciting being pulled off on the local sand and agreed to go through their thrilling and spectacular stunts to amuse the former race goers.

Aviator Davies was busy Friday tuning his motor up to perfection, following slight engine trouble, and expects to have the machine in ship shape for his thrilling line of stunts Saturday.

La Copland, flying the large Lenox, with Percy Spencer and Pete Craig as wing walkers promise to give some startling double wing walking stunts, and possibly the one foot hang from the landing gear.

Double wing walking is yet a novelty in this section, the Lenox being the only machine on the beach capable of carrying two men on wings. This is due to her unusual construction and large cargo capacity.

Davies, with his nose dives, Immelman turns, zooms, steep banks and other stunts in mid-air has proven his ability to hold the attention of any crowd, and with the Lenox, with her faithful pilot at the helm, and Spencer and Craig co-operating in double wing walking, the day promises to contain many thrills and hair raising episodes. The ceremonies will begin promptly at 1:30 Saturday afternoon and all are invited out to see the "aerial circus" in action.

Dr. and Mrs. G. B. Giltner of Murfreesboro, Tenn., who have been spending some time on the west coast of the state are now in Seabreeze to spend several days. Dr. Giltner has invested heavily in Florida real estate and has every faith in the development and growth of the state. They are with their old time friends, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Jackson.

Mrs. A. L. Cutzay, whose summer home is in the Catskill Mountains and who has been spending the winter in Nassau, Bahamas, has arrived in Seabreeze for a stay of several weeks.

Siren Takes the Place of Bell in Calling Firemen

The faithful old fire bell which has for many years resounded at midnight and other unearthly hours to awaken the public with its warning of fire with a deep basso dong dong, has been removed from the lofty perch on the tower just in front of the Daytona fire department and in its place an electrical siren has been erected.

No more will the volunteer members of the department and the sleeping public be awakened by the deep-toned stroke of the old bell, which has been faithful throughout many years.

Instead a shrieking, startling, spasmodic, screaming, bringing back to ex-service men, visions of other days, air raids on Paris, gas attacks, and signals of approaching enemy air squadrons, will be the warning that some home, business establishment, or other building is being endangered by flames.

The new siren is a large red object with an electrical motor in the center of two megaphone-like sounders. The two sounders are directed north and south, while the motor will furnish the power to create the warning signal.

The sound to be emitted by this new warning signal will resemble very much that of the siren on the fire truck, only the sound will be magnified many times.

Blue Birds Form Branch of Silver Beach Camp Girls

An organization of the Blue Bird Camp was formed last Saturday evening at the regular ceremonial meeting of the Silver Beach Camp Fire Girls at the home of Mrs. Aynard at the beach. Ten Blue Birds of little sisters of the Camp Fire Circle were officially admitted forming a circle within the circle. The watchword of the B. B. C. is "sing, help and grow." An interesting account of the work of the campfire for the past month was given by Dorothy Demarest and Alleyne Webber told of the woodcarving at Ormond. Nelson Crandall an accomplished musician played for the motion songs. Delicous refreshments were served after which a short program was rendered. "I am a Little Blue Bird" was recited by Marjorie Thomas and six little Blue Birds gave the Blue Bird dance. Julia Towne recited the Camp Fire "Pep." Lucy May Lawrence, Drury Pulman and Renora Tellett were also admitted to the regular Camp Fire group and Ruth Carter was awarded the rank of wood gatherer.

DAYTONA HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Monday morning during chapel exercises, Mr. Eastham announced to the great rejoicing of the pupils that on Friday they would have a half holiday for their carnival which will be given at the Central High school building. The pupils are going at their preparations whole heartedly and intend to make the affair something worth while to see. Each class is going to give a show of their own, then there will be a large show in which the whole school will take part. The funds received from this carnival will be used on the three Daytona schools.

Tuesday afternoon, Stephen A. Housh, gave the pupils a most interesting talk. The pupils decided that his address was one of the most interesting they had heard delivered to them this year.

This morning a very delightful program was given to the whole school by Misses Mae O'Neill, Eleanor Slough and Helen Sheppard, who spoke well memorized speeches. George Winslow and William Embanks were also on the program. These programs will be given every Thursday morning during chapel exercises in order to prepare the pupils for public speaking.

An investigation was made of the manual training department today and proved to be most surprising. The boys have made so many useful articles for the home which would have cost them four times the price, if they had to buy them in a furniture store. The furniture they make is made of the best cedar and oak. In this way they will have expensive furniture in their homes which will last them years to come. Some of the articles made were, a cedar chest each by Harold and Kenneth Hulin, Albert Humphrey, Willie and Howard Simmons, Erling Espedahl and Eric Werner. Two writing desks were also made by Howard Simmons and Harold Hulin. Willie Simmons made a beautiful cedar library table. Kenneth Hulin made a wall cabinet. A beautiful oak Morris chair is now being completed by Albert Humphrey. Table lamps have been made by Eric Werner and Edward Horn. Smaller articles such as tabourets and pedestals have been made by some of the boys.

The two divisions of the 7th grade are now designing and building small motor boats, from which the two fastest ones from each side will be selected to race. Mr. Glodges, the manual training teacher, is very much delighted to have the boys take an interest in their coming boat race.

Friday at 11:30 o'clock the pupils of Daytona schools will parade down Beach street. They will then return to give their performance at the Central building from 3 to 10 p.m.

Samuel Sternheim, Jewish Leader of Prominence, to Be Film Speaker Here Sunday

Dr. Sternheim was asked by a representative of the News what his ideas were as to the League of Nations and he said: "I am in no sense a politician. I aim to be entirely non-partisan and while I am of course interested in the political life of my country, I am not tied to any party. I do believe, however, that there should be some kind of a league that would hold the nations of the world together in terms of peace. I believe that Woodrow Wilson has been a great president and I hope when the four years are past that President Harding will have proven to his countrymen that he, too, is a great man, and I believe that he will."

"I am very optimistic as to the industrial condition that confronts the world today. I think that this country will very quickly readjust itself. This period of unrest was bound to follow the great war but this is a great and resourceful country and the reconstruction will be accomplished as rapidly as possible."

He was asked regarding the relationship of England and the United States and the Irish question and said that he believed that England had only friendly feelings for this country and that there was no reason why there should ever be any serious trouble between the two great English speaking countries of the world.

He was asked regarding the relationship of England and the United States and the Irish question and said that he believed that England had only friendly feelings for this country and that there was no reason why there should ever be any serious trouble between the two great English speaking countries of the world. That should there ever be a serious misunderstanding or should war result it would be a disaster too terrible to contemplate.

Dr. Sternheim said:

"I have always been unqualifiedly in favor of woman's suffrage, but I must admit that the best test to which women have been put have in many instances been disappointing to me. No doubt I have expected too much and as time passes and the women adjust themselves to the new responsibilities no doubt the greater things will be accomplished."

"When in England I was always deeply interested in the so-called Irish question and I have always been a firm believer in home rule. This question involves religion and other matters and conditions with which Americans are not familiar. I am a greater believer in the rights of the smaller nations."

Dr. Sternheim said that during the war he was a strong pro-ally and that he was three generations English. He said that he regarded optimistically the future of the Jewish race that for my people because of their religion of the great thinkers and teachers of today to educate people so that communities of countries could live side by side in peace, living their own lives and in consideration each for the other.

To hear this noted educator at the Auditorium on Sunday will be an unusual opportunity for the people of the three cities and the building should be filled with those who seek knowledge and entertainment.

Dr. Sternheim expressed himself as being delighted with Seabreeze and the Hotel Clarion which he pronounced one of the finest with which he was familiar. He said it was a joy to him to be so near the sea and that he was thoroughly enjoying his brief visit to Florida's greatest resort city.

Lecture, Dramatic Reading and Music on Friday Evening

Rev. Charles Frederic Goss, D. D., as lecturer; Mrs. Eva Narvaez Grabowsky, dramatic reader; Miss Hazel Grennell, song soloist and Miss Kate Hatchkin, accompanist, will round out a program at the Seabreeze Tourist church, Friday evening, March 18, which will be deeply enjoyable in every detail to those who attend.

Dr. Goss' well known gift of speech, skill at picture drawing, his understanding of human nature and appreciation of out of doors, will make an hour with him most delightfully spent while Mrs. Grabowsky and Miss Grennell win new favor wherever they appear. Miss Hatchkin, who has charge of the music at the Tourist church for several seasons, has many friends and admirers in the congregation.

These artists are donating their gifts for the benefit of the Seabreeze Library Association, and while it was impossible to arrange an evening without conflict with other entertainments, the cause should appeal to every loyal resident of Seabreeze, not to omit the many benevolent visitors within her borders and so fill the church with an appreciative audience.

Rev. Canon B. Bryan, president of the association, will introduce the speakers. Program will begin at 8 p. m.

Tickets may be had at the Clarendon Hotel and drug store, The Princess, the Geneva Hotel, Seabreeze, and at Hankins Drug Company, corner of Beach and Volusia, Daytona.

Case Against Ed. Stevens Dismissed; Lack of Evidence

The charge against Ed. S. Stevens, manager of the Daily News circulation contest of obtaining money under false pretenses with intent to defraud was dismissed in Judge Allen's court in Lakeland Wednesday afternoon, no evidence of the charge brought by Eppes Tucker, Jr., a lawyer.

Tucker, a disgruntled contestants in a circulation contest run on by Stevens for the Lakeland Telegram, made a claim that Stevens obtained a sum of money from him on the promise that he could win an automobile. He won a Victrola. Although the case was postponed twice, to give Tucker an opportunity to prove his charge, he was unable to do so. Judge Allen dismissed the case, exonerating Stevens of the charge.

Stories published at the time of Stevens' arrest were sadly garbled. No other charges were brought against Stevens, as was predicted, he was not under bond at any time. Tucker did not own a car and the "promises" of Tucker as a lawyer is quite an exaggeration, according to his fellow lawyers of Polk county.

The dining room was ingeniously decorated in green, the color scheme in keeping with the St. Patrick's Day features of the luncheon.

VOLUSIA COUNTY FEDERATION HAS BEEN ORGANIZED

At a large and enthusiastic meeting of members of various women's clubs of Volusia county, at the Palmetto Clubhouse, Wednesday afternoon, the Volusia County Federation was organized, composed of members of the many women's clubs of the county, representatives of nine clubs of the county being present at the organization yesterday, when a constitution and bylaws and election of officers were the principal features.

The organization of a county federation society follows agitation for such a county club for the past several years, in order that the work of the women's clubs in this section might be carried on with a closer bond than the state federation affords.

The meeting Wednesday was attended by Mrs. W. E. Brown, vice-president of Section 6 of the State Federation, and by Miss Elizabeth Skinner, vice-president at large.

Following the adoption of the constitution and by-laws, with a few minor changes, the name Volusia County Federation was chosen.

Election of officers followed, those being chosen included:

President, Mrs. M. L. Stanley, Daytona.

Corresponding secretary, Mrs. Ed. J. Armstrong, Daytona.

Recording Secretary, Mrs. H. French Ormond.

Treasurer, Mrs. Albert Dickinson, Ormond City.

Auditor, Mrs. Maud Lyon, Port Orange.

It was decided that the county organization would hold three meetings each year, with possibly a meeting before the summer season commences.

The work of the various women's clubs of the county will be consolidated, working for greater good in Volusia. Members of the Palmetto Club deserve great praise for the successful organization for the county body and it was largely through them that the preliminary work has been done.

PRINCESS ISENNA

F. B. Rampe, who, with his wife, daughter and granddaughter, has been spending the season at the Princess Isenna, is departing from the hotel to go to his home in Cincinnati, said:

"The season has been a most delightful one. We hate to leave this wonderful city, with its matchless climate and its perpetual sunshine, but, of course, we must go so that we may come again."

He complimented Manager Henry Haynes on the manner in which guests of the Princess Isenna were taken care of and said that he and his family had been made very comfortable and had received every attention.

Mrs. Charles D. Matthews and Miss Gertrude Whitney of Binghamton, N. Y., who have been guests of the Princess Isenna, departed today for their homes. In leaving they said that it was with regret and that they considered that they were most unfortunate in that they were able to get accommodations at the Princess. They have spent a portion of the season at the more southern resorts and both ladies say that for comfort and the genuine home atmosphere they have found nothing like the Princess.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Budress of Evanston, Ill., are at the Princess Isenna for their second visit of the season.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Sherrett and child and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Sherrett of New York are newly arrived guests at the Princess Isenna. The gentlemen are connected with the Fuller Construction company that constructed the wonderful Pennsylvania hotel in New York, and many other notable buildings in that and other cities.

RIDGEWOOD HOTEL

Guests at the Ridgewood enjoyed the usual card party last evening, and this evening there is a gay celebration of St. Patrick's day.

Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Bondy of New York, who have been at the Ridgewood for the season, celebrated yesterday the fortieth anniversary of their wedding day. They received many telegrams and messages of congratulations, and when they entered the dining room at noon they were reminded of the occasion when the band struck up the popular wedding march. In the evening they entertained a few friends at dinner.

Fred Mansfield, proprietor of the Crown hotel of Providence, R. I., arrived today at the Ridgewood for a stay of several days. He has been in Miami, where he was a guest at the Flamingo hotel. He is delighted with the fine exhilarating climate of Daytona and glad to spend a few days with his friends at the Ridgewood before returning to his northern home.

On Saturday evening, Allandale was entertained at the new store building to ice cream and cake. The lower door of the east half of the building is about finished and all found it very attractive. A pleasant social evening was enjoyed by all who attended.

The Allandale Improvement association will hold their regular meeting on Monday evening of next week. All members who are really interested are requested to be present, as several matters of importance to the welfare of all are under consideration and as the season is advancing and many will leave before the next regular meeting it will be necessary to have a full attendance at the meeting on next Monday.
